information, and inspiration to achieve self-defined success in career and life. Through a specialized curriculum developed by Dress for Success Worldwide, members receive coaching on topics such as financial education, corporate culture, health and wellness, and creating work/life balance. The Career Center offers access to a professional human resources staff and volunteers, the Internet, computers, and printers to assist in resume preparation, job searches, effective self-promotion, and interview techniques. Also available are the Workkeys Fit and Talent assessments that gauge personal interests, aptitudes, and skills against potential career paths. These assessment tools, developed by ACT, are becoming the standard barometer of an individual's ability to successfully pursue a particular career path. In addition, we are able to offer some clients access to ACT's National Career Readiness Certificate program (NCRC), which measures and documents work skills. The Going Places Network (GPN) by The Walmart Foundation helps unemployed and underemployed clients gain career skills, utilize job search resources, and build confidence. This structured program was developed because the challenging economic climate was leading to more competitive job searches and many women still need considerable coaching and support on resume writing, interviewing techniques, and Internet navigation before being truly ready to seek employment. GPN consists of individual coaching and weekly small group workshops. The Dress for Success Cincinnati Mobile Career Transformation Center (MCTC) was launched in September 2011, providing services in the community where clients can readily access them. The MCTC is housed in a custom-designed, commercial vehicle that accommodates wheeled racks of attire inventory, program materials, laptop computers, staff members, and volunteers. This has allowed Dress for Success Cincinnati to serve women who have difficulty reaching the downtown location. The vehicle also helps Dress for Success Cincinnati pick up donations that would have been lost due to the inconvenience of dropping them off downtown. Approximately 1,800 unduplicated clients were served in 2014. 1285 interview suits and 324 employment suits were distributed. There were 52 active Professional Women's Group members and 524 Career Center clients during the year. There were also 65 Going Places Network by Walmart program participants, and 39 of these members completed the program successfully.
